work, and signed by or on behalf of the applicants, such notice to be published as follows:—

In the BRITISH COLUMBIA GAZETTE, and in one newspaper published in the District affected, or if there be no newspaper published therein, then in a newspaper in the next nearest District in which a newspaper is published.

Such notice shall be continued in each case for a period of at least six weeks, during the interval of time between the close of the next preceding Session and the consideration of the Petition, and copies of such notice shall be sent by the parties inserting such notice to the Clerk of the House to be filed amongst the records of the Committee on Standing Orders.

60. Before any Petition, praying for leave to bring in a Private Bill for the erection of a Toll Bridge, is received by the House, the person or persons intending to petition for such Bill shall, upon giving the notice prescribed by the preceding rule, also at the same time and in the same manner, give notice of the rates which they intend to ask, the extent of the privilege, the height of the arches, the interval between the abutments or piers for the passage of rafts and vessels, and mentioning also whether they intend to erect a draw-bridge or not, and the dimensions of the same.

BY-LAW No. 13.

WHEREAS it is deemed expedient for the better protection of the citizens and property against fire, that a by-law should be passed regulating the erection, maintenance and use of all wires and equipments that may be used within the City of Nelson, for the purpose of conducting electricity for lighting houses and premises within the limits of the city.

Therefore be it enacted by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Nelson as follows:—

1. That the Municipal Council may by resolution from time to time appoint an inspector of wires and buildings, at such salary as may be thought fit, whose duties it shall be to see that the regulations contained in this by-law are enforced and carried out.

2. That all wires and equipments that may be erected and maintained in connection with the electric lighting of any buildings and premises within the limits of the City of Nelson, shall be conducted, arranged and maintained in accordance with the following regulations, that is to say:

(1.) That the conducting wires shall be of copper, and shall have a weight per running foot at least equal to that of the wire (or parallel groups of wires) constituting the main circuit of the magnetic regulator of the electric lamps (are lamps), or of the armature of the machine employed, whichever of these is the greatest:

(2.) All joints on wires shall be so made as to secure perfect and durable contacts, which shall always maintain a degree of conductivity at the joint at least equal to that of the wire generally:

(3.) The joint shall be so made as in the ordinary "telegraph splice," that it is mechanically secure against motion and displacement, and shall then be further electrically connected by solder so applied as to leave no corrosive or otherwise injurious substance on the connection. After joining and soldering the joint shall be covered with insulating material in such a way as to make the insulation of the joint as good as that of the rest of the line:

(4.) A joint made by the process of electric welding would be the equivalent of one made as indicated above, but no joint depending upon solder for its mechanical integrity, either wholly or in part, will be allowed:

(5.) Outside "drop" wires shall be covered with at least two coatings, one of insulating material, impervious to water, next to the wire, and the other of some substance fitted to resist abrasion or like mechanical injury, and shall be firmly secured to substantial approved insulators adequately supported:

(6.) Overhead conducting wires shall be supported on poles as far as possible, so that they can be readily reached for inspection, and when this cannot be done, and special permit is granted allowing them to be carried over or attached to buildings, they shall be supported at least seven feet above the general level of the roof, and at least one foot above the ridge of "pitch roofs."

(7.) When wires approach buildings to enter them they must be so located as not to be readily reached by the occupants of such buildings and, in the case of arc light systems, must maintain a minimum distance of ten inches apart, except where the wires are carried in conduits:

(8.) When these exterior electric light wires are near other conductors of any kind, capable of carrying off a part of the current if contact should be made, dead insulated guard-irons shall be placed so as to prevent such contact, in case of accidents affecting the wires or their supports:

(9.) Like precautions shall be taken where acute angles occur in the line wires:

(10.) Overhead wires from the main circuit or pole lines in the street, to the insulators attached to the buildings which they enter, shall not be less than ten inches apart from arc wires, or six inches from incandescent wires carrying currents of 250 C. M. I. as a maximum. They shall be securely and rigidly supported to insulators of glass, porcelain or other approved material:

(11.) Wherever electric light wires enter buildings through their exterior walls, the wires shall be firmly supported and encased in tubes of non-conducting material not liable to absorb moisture, and so placed as to prevent the entrance of rain water along the wires (e. g., the tubes shall slope upwards as they pass inward through the wall):

(12.) Both the ingoing and returning wires, where arc lights are supplied, must enter the buildings at the same location, and pass through an approved manual "cut-out-box" or switch, which shall be placed where it shall be of easy access to firemen and the police:

(13.) In the interior of buildings wires for arc lights, besides being covered with an insulating covering, such as has already been described, shall in all cases be securely attached and supported by insulators, which shall keep them out of contact with any wall, partition, ceiling, or floor, so as to secure an air space of at least one-quarter of an inch between the wire and any adjacent wall, partition, floor or ceiling, and wherever the wires cross or come near to any other wires, pipes or other conductors, the wires shall be rigidly secured and separated from each other, or any other conductors by means of some rigid non-conducting material:

(14.) Arc wires of opposite polarities (i.e., the incoming and outgoing wires from each lamp, or of each circuit), shall be kept at a distance of not less than eight inches from each other, except within the structure of lamps or on switch boards, cut out boxes or the like where a nearer approach is necessary:

(15.) In exceptional cases, however, where the wires are so rigidly secured and insulated that contact or connection between them is quite impossible, they may be allowed to approach much nearer (e. g., if each wire or conductor is covered with a thick and indisplaceable insulation which, in turn, is covered by a leaden sheath or pipe, and then two or more such pipes are enclosed in an iron pipe in such a manner that injury to the lead covered cables is impossible. This would be an allowable substitute for the eight inches of absolute separation called for in the general rule):

(16.) Whenever wires are carried through walls, partitions or floors within a building they shall be surrounded by a special rigid insulating tube or casing impervious to water, and shall be so attached and supported as to be secure from abrasion or other mechanical injury. Note: (Soft rubber tubing will not meet the above requirements as an insulator).

(17.) The exterior frames and other exposed parts of arc lamps shall be securely insulated from the electric circuit, and all such lamps shall have glass globes surrounding the light, and enclosed below so as to prevent the falling of ignited particles. Where inflammable materials are placed below such lamps the globe shall be surrounded by a wire netting capable of keeping the parts of the globe in place if it is fractured in use:

(18.) In show windows and other places where inflammable materials are displayed, and in factories and wood-working establishments where "flyings" may be present in the air, each arc lamp shall be provided with a "spark arrester":

(19.) Each arc lamp shall be provided with a hand switch, and also with an automatic switch, which shall shunt the current round the carbons before the arc between them reaches a dangerous length:

(20.) In the distribution of the conductors through buildings, "concealed work," such as the placing of wires under floors or within partitions, walls, or ceilings, shall be avoided as much as possible; but in no case shall a wire of a less size than No. 12 gauge be used in "concealed work":

(21.) In perfectly and securely dry localities an approved insulated wire without water-proof covering may be used, provided the wires are not concealed, and are supported by cleats or insulators:

(22.) Whenever the wires are to be in any way covered up, they must be coated with an approved water-proof insulation, or otherwise protected in such manner as may from time to time be approved by the inspector:

(23.) In all cases of concealed work the person, persons, or body corporate proposing to introduce the same shall furnish the inspector with a detailed diagram of the work; showing the kind and size of wire used at the different branches, with particulars as to the insulation and in what material embedded, location of cut-outs, switches, etc., the diagram to be signed and sworn to by the person or officers of the company, and filed with the inspector for reference:

(24.) If wires are embedded in the plaster of walls, ceilings, or partitions, they shall be separated by not less than ten inches from each other, in addition to being insulated as above described, unless they are enclosed in approved conduits:

(25.) All conductors used inside buildings, in connection with the electric wiring thereof, must be protected when passing through walls, floors, partitions, timbers, or any part of the structure of the building, by a water-proof, non-combustible, insulating or hard rubber tube:

(26.) All conductors used in connection with the electric wiring inside a building must be supported wholly on non-combustible insulators constructed so as to prevent, as far as possible, the insulating coverings of the wire from coming into contact with other substances than the insulating supports:

(27.) At the entrance of an electric wire into any building, there shall be an approved switch placed in the service conductors, by which the current may be entirely cut off from the interior wiring of the building:

(28.) In buildings in course of construction, terminal wires shall be so arranged as to be secure from injury by the plasterers:

(29.) Wires insulated as above may be covered or embedded in mouldings in dry locations, but in breweries, paper mills, dye houses, and other like places where they are exposed to moisture, they shall be carried out of contact with the walls, ceilings, and the like, on approved insulators, or in such water-proof and insulating conduits as may be approved by the inspector:

(30.) Conduits to be approved shall be continuous from one junction to another, or to fixtures, and be of material that will resist the fusing of wire or wires they contain without destroying or igniting the conduit, and if not entirely embedded in plaster or other non-combustible material, or not inflammable themselves, must have an outer covering which is non-inflammable, and be so placed that they will be protected from injury or breakage, and all wires intended to carry more than five ampere currents shall be placed in separate conduits, unless a special permit is issued for same, on branches imbedded for wires of five ampere currents and less; the positive and negative wires, if properly insulated, may be placed in the same conduit, provided a double pole safety fuse is inserted at each branch connection:

(31.) In these systems, where alternating currents of high electromotive force are used on the main line, and secondary currents of low electromotive force are developed in local "converters" or "transformers," the entire primary circuit and the transformers shall, where possible, be excluded from any building, and confined to the aerial line (the transformers being attached to the poles or to the exteriors of the buildings), or to the underground conduits if such are used, or placed in fire-proof vaults or exterior buildings:

(32.) In those cases, however, where it may not be possible to exclude the transformers and entire primary from the building, the following precautions shall be strictly observed:

(33.) The transformer shall be constructed with or enclosed in a fire-proof or non-combustible case, and located at a point as near as possible as that at which the primary wires enter the buildings. Between these points the conductors shall be heavily insulated with a coating of approved water-proof material, and in addition shall be so covered in and protected that mechanical injury to them or contact with them shall be practically impossible:

(34.) These primary conductors, if within a building, shall also be furnished with a double pole switch or separate switches on the ingoing and return wires, and also with automatic double pole cut-out where they enter the building, or where they leave the main line on the pole, or in the conduit. The switches above referred to should, if possible, be enclosed in secure and fire-proof boxes outside the building:

(35.) Where there is a possible exposure to water, the first or second coating shall be impervious to the fluid:

(36.) For incandescent lamp fixtures and electroliers, exceptions may be made to the foregoing rule in which the wires can be placed nearer than the prescribed distance to each other or to other conductors, provided the fixture is fully insulated at the base from house and ground piping, and further provided that a double pole safety catch is placed at the base of each fixture, or at the nearest branch connection, as may be required by the inspector:

(37.) In all cases where combination (gas and electric) fixtures are used, extra precaution shall be taken to secure complete and continuous insulation from the gas piping:

(38.) All machine lamps, wires, and other parts of the electric systems, shall be so constructed, mounted and secured as to insure complete and continuous isolation, with such exceptions only as are hereinbefore stated, and in no case shall ground circuits be employed, or any part of the system be allowed to come in contact with the earth through gas or water pipes or the like:

(39.) Wherever a current of such high electromotive force is employed that, if concentrated in one lamp or motor of the series, it would produce an arc capable of destroying or fusing part of such lamp, an automatic switch shall be introduced in each lamp or motor, by which it will be thrown out of circuit before the arc approaches any such dangerous extent:

(40.) Wherever a connection is made between a larger and a smaller conductor at the entrance or within a building, some approved automatic device shall be introduced into the circuit of the smaller conductor at or close to its junction, by which it shall be interrupted whenever the current passing is in excess of its safe carrying capacity:

(41.) All cut-out boxes or switches which shift, transmit or break a current shall be mounted on incombustible bases, and so arranged as to close one circuit before they open another and operate in such a manner that no arc can be formed between the contact surface when thrown "on" or "off." It shall be so far positive in its action that it cannot stop between the extreme positions. It must indicate upon inspection whether the current is on or off. This regulation applies to isolated plants as well as to those connected with central stations:

(42.) The rules and regulations under the head of insulation, automatic cut-outs and switches shall be observed where electric motors are used, and, in addition, the motor frames shall be properly insulated, and so mounted as to be free from grounds, and each motor shall be provided with an approved switch to prevent an excessive flow of currents:

(43.) When the current for lights and power is taken from storage batteries, the same general regulations are to be observed:

(44.) "High potential circuits or wires:" This term includes all wires arranged with the view of carrying currents of more than two hundred and fifty volts difference of potential between any two parts of the system, even if such current is used to run incandescent lamps:

(45.) Low potential circuits or wires are such as do not carry more than two hundred and fifty volts:

(46.) Before any wires laid or embedded in the plaster or material composing any walls, ceilings or partitions of buildings are covered up or concealed, notice shall be given by the owner or contractor to the inspector requesting him to inspect the same. He shall so inspect within two days, and if he condemns them as not being laid or constructed in accordance with the provisions of this by-law, they shall be forthwith removed by the owner or contractor. Any owner or contractor failing to give the aforesaid notice before covering up or concealing the said wires, or failing in the event of the said wires being condemned, to forthwith remove the same, shall be liable to the penalties of this by-law:

(47.) The owner of any building in which electric wires are placed, or the contractor who has placed the same, shall pay to the inspector a fee of $2.00 for inspecting a building containing ten outlets or under, a fee of $4.00 for inspecting a building containing 25 to 50 outlets, and a fee of $6.00 for inspecting a building containing 50 outlets or more: the said fees and no more being payable for all the visits of inspection and work.

3. Any person, persons, or body corporate, by themselves, their agents, or servants, erecting or maintaining any wire used for the conduct of electricity within the limits of the City of Nelson contrary to the foregoing regulations shall be guilty of an infraction of this by-law, and liable to the penalties thereof.

4. Any person, persons, or body corporate, convicted of a breach of any of the provisions of this by-law before the police magistrate or two justices of the peace having jurisdiction within the City of Nelson, shall forfeit and pay for such offence such sum not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100), together with the costs of prosecution as to the police magistrate, or other convicting justices, shall seem right; and in default of payment of said penalty and costs forthwith, the said penalty and costs, or penalty or costs only, may be levied by distress of the goods and chattels of the offender or offenders, and in case of there being no distress found out of which the said penalty can be levied, the police magistrate, or other convicting justices may, under his hand and seal, issue a warrant committing such offender or offenders to the common gaol for any period not exceeding two months, with or without hard labour, unless the said penalty and costs be sooner paid.

5. This by-law shall be cited for all purposes as the "Electric Lighting and Wiring By-law, No. 13, 1897." Read the first and second times on June 23rd, 1897. Read the third time on July 26th, 1897.

The persons qualified to vote for Mayor and Aldermen at such first election shall be all such persons who are male British subjects of the full age of twenty-one years and have resided within the limits of such city for the three months next preceding the date of such election, and who shall, before the day of such election, have applied to the Returning Officer and have had their names placed on the list of electors for such election.

It shall be the duty of the Returning Officer to enter in a book, in alphabetical order, the names, addresses and occupations of all such persons, qualified as aforesaid, who make application to him, as aforesaid, to have their names placed on such list, and such list shall be the list of the electors for such elections.

Before the name of any person shall be placed on the list, he shall make and sign a declaration in writing, before some person authorised to administer oaths, setting forth his name, address, occupation, and qualifications, as aforesaid, which declaration shall be filed with the Returning Officer.

Such list and declarations shall be open to inspection by any person within lawful hours.

Any person may complain that his name is improperly omitted from the voters' list, or that any other name is improperly inserted thereon, and may apply to any Judge of the Supreme or County Court to have his name inserted thereon or to have any names improperly inserted thereon struck off the said list. In such latter case reasonable notice, to be determined by the Judge applied to, shall be given to the person whose name is proposed to be struck off. The Judge shall hear and dispose of all such applications in a summary way, and the Returning Officer shall amend the list in accordance with the Judge's decision.

At least six days' notice of the time and place of nomination and of holding of the poll (if any) shall be given by the said Returning Officer; such notice to be posted during that period in the manner provided by section 30 of the "Municipal Elections Act, 1896."

The Returning Officer shall, on the day of nomination, at 2 o'clock P.M., announce the names of the persons put in nomination in that behalf as candidates for the office of Mayor and Aldermen, as prescribed by the "Municipal Elections Act, 1896."

At the close of the time for nominating the candidates the Returning Officer shall deliver to every candidate, or agent of a candidate, applying for the same, a duly certified list of the names of the several candidates who shall have been nominated; and any votes given at the election for any other candidates than those so nominated shall be null and void.

If, at the expiration of the time appointed for the election as aforesaid, no more candidates stand nominated than there are vacancies to be filled up, the Returning Officer shall forthwith declare the candidates who may stand nominated to be elected, and return their names to the Registrar of the Supreme Court.

No speeches or interruption to the proceedings of nominating candidates at the hustings shall be permitted by the Returning Officer between the reading of the notice of election and the closing of the proceedings on nomination day by the Returning Officer.

If, at the expiration of such time, more candidates stand nominated than there are vacancies to be filled up, the Returning Officer shall declare the names of the candidates, and publicly proclaim the day previously stated in his proclamation, and the place or places at which the poll shall be so opened in the Municipality, for the purpose of taking the votes of the electors according to law; and shall then adjourn the election, and shall take a poll by ballot, and shall cause to be posted up notices of his having granted such poll, indicating the names, residences, and occupations of the candidates so nominated, in the order in which they shall be printed on the ballot papers, which notices shall, as soon as possible after the nomination, be placarded in all the places where the proclamation for the election was posted up.

If, after the adjournment of an election by the Returning Officer for the purpose of taking a poll, one of the candidates nominated shall die before the poll has commenced, the Returning Officer shall, upon being satisfied of the fact of such death, countermand notice of the poll, and all the proceedings with reference to the election shall be commenced afresh: Provided that no fresh nomination shall be necessary in the case of a candidate who stood nominated at the time of the countermand of the poll.

In case of a poll being held the candidates (duly qualified) who shall obtain the greatest number of votes shall be Municipal Aldermen and Mayor respectively.

Every person qualified to vote shall have seven votes, being one for each Councillor to be elected, and one for Mayor, but he may vote for any less number than seven: Provided always, that he shall not cast more than one vote in favour of any one candidate, or vote on more than one occasion. And in the event of the number of votes being found to have been equal for any two or more candidates, one or more of whom, but not all of such candidates, being by the state of the poll entitled to be declared elected, the Returning Officer shall by a casting vote or votes, as the case may be, decide which of the candidates for whom the votes may be equal shall be elected: Provided that the said Returning Officer shall not vote except in case of an equality of votes as aforesaid.

All expenses attendant upon the said election shall be borne by the candidates in equal proportion; such expenses shall not exceed in the whole one hundred dollars.

The opening of the ballot boxes and counting the votes shall be in the presence of the candidates if they attend for that purpose.

The Returning Officer, after the declaration of the poll, shall retain the ballot papers and boxes until a Clerk shall be duly appointed, to whom he shall forthwith deliver the same.

Every person who shall have presented himself for nomination, and who shall have been elected a Municipal Aldermen or Mayor, must serve for the term for which he has been elected, unless in the case of sickness, or in default pay a sum of fifty dollars towards the Municipal Revenue; such sum, with costs, shall be recoverable by the Clerk of the Municipality, summarily, before any Justice of the Peace.

Any vacancy in the office of Reeve or Councillor shall be filled as provided by the "Municipal Elections Act, 1896."

The first meeting of the Council shall be held on the first Saturday after the day of election, at the School-house, at 12 noon.

Until provision be made by by-law, in that behalf, all proceedings at and relating to the meetings of the Council shall be held and taken in accordance with the provisions contained in the "Municipal Clauses Act, 1896," and all the powers, privileges, and duties of the Mayor and Council shall be the same as those prescribed by the said Act.

At the first meeting, or as soon thereafter as possible, the Council may elect a Clerk, Treasurer, Collector, and Assessor, or such officers as they may deem necessary, who shall hold such office during the pleasure of the Council, and receive such remuneration as the Council may by by-law appoint.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have caused these Our Letters to be made Patent, and the Great Seal of the said Province to be hereunto affixed: WITNESS, the Honourable EDGAR DEWDNEY, Lieutenant-Governor of Our said Province of British Columbia, in Our City of Victoria, in Our said Province, this twelfth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, and in the sixty-first year of Our Reign.
